

WILSON OPPOSED TO U. S. MEDIATION

Ambassador Announces Opposition to Several Mexican Peace Plans

OPPOSES COMMISSION

Asserts Plan for Tripartite Commission Is Contrary to the Monroe Doctrine

ARRIVE IN WASHINGTON TODAY

NEW YORK, July 25.—Pausing here for half a day on his hurried Mexico-to-Washington trip in response to a summons from President Wilson, Henry Lane Wilson, American ambassador to Mexico, announced his emphatic opposition to several plans under consideration by the state department for bringing about peace in the troubled Mexican republic. Supplementing statements he made earlier in the day disapproving the suggestions of American mediation or the appointment of a tripartite commission, Mr. Wilson to night gave his reasons why he considered the plan for a tripartite commission not a feasible one.

"If we are to consider such a plan we may as well abandon the Monroe doctrine entirely," he said. "The Monroe doctrine pledges the United States to take care of the interests of American governments without the aid of any foreign country. Consequently under the Monroe doctrine we cannot attempt to settle Mexico's affairs through the services of such a body as the proposed tripartite commission since it involves calling in of outside governments to help."

"Stands Pat" on His Actions.
Mr. Wilson was reticent when questioned as to his policy on American intervention and recognition of Mexico by the United States. These views, he said, he felt he must reserve for his conference with President Wilson and Secretary Bryan. "I have been blamed for a great deal," the ambassador commented as he discussed his administration in Mexico City. On everything he has done he "stands pat," however, he said, and believed as he hurried on to Washington, taking a train late in night that he would be retained in his position and sent back to Mexico.

The ambassador's silence regarding his opinion as to American recognition was broken to night long enough for him to comment on one of his acts just after the overthrow of Madero. Mr. Wilson remembered that this act was interpreted in many quarters as virtual recognition of Mexico, notwithstanding the refusal of his government at Washington to admit the republic on a diplomatic footing common with other governments.

Issued Instructions.
In February, when Huerta became provisional president, the ambassador instructed American consuls in Mexico, "in the interests of Mexico to urge general submission and adherence to the government which will be recognized by all foreign governments to day."

Mr. Wilson said a wrong construction would be placed on this advice to consuls officers by any person who believed it meant that he recognized the Huerta government or that he had desired to conflict in any way with the policies of either Mr. Taft as president or President Wilson.

"It was the defacto government only that I recognized," Mr. Wilson explained. "The defacto government that possessed the power to offer protection for American lives and property and for the lives and property of other foreigners. I acted as any ambassador had the right to act—in the interests of my countrymen. The government I recognized was the only existing one of law and order. I believe that I did right at that critical time."

Americans in Danger.
Discussing conditions in Mexico Mr. Wilson earlier in the day declared American lives and property are in danger from rebels and bandits.

"If the present government falls there will be chaos," he said, "although at the present time the Huerta government controls all but two of the states and should soon be in absolute command of the whole country."

Have been blamed for a great deal," Mr. Wilson added, "but if I had not intervened after the bombardment of the City of Mexico the city would have been in flames with a tremendous loss of life and destruction of property. I brought Diaz and Huerta together. That was the thing that prevented a terrible disaster."

For Well Defined Policy.
Washington, July 25.—While administration officials believe that the crisis will not be reached in Mexico until the northern rebel armies press closer to Mexico City and the federal strongholds, indications tonight were that in effort would be made by the Washington government to pursue a

GOVERNMENT REPORTED GAINING UPPER HAND

REBELS ARE FALLING BACK THROUGH OUT YANG-TSE VALLEY

Attacks on the Arsenal by the Southerners Are Complete Failures—Marines Land From French Warship.
SHANGHAI, July 25.—The revolutionary cause here appears to be waning. Despite the large number of rebel reinforcements the attacks on the arsenal by the southerners last night and today failed completely and (Dr. Wu-Ting-Fang, former Chinese minister to the United States, General Wen-Tsung-Yao, and other prominent rebels, after a conference today telegraphed President Yuan Shi Kai proposing a basis for peace negotiations.

It is now known that So-Chow-Fu, in the province of Kiang-Su, is in possession of the northwestern. Despite the negotiations made for an armistice fighting was resumed at 9 o'clock this evening. The southerners, reinforced by 500 Cantonese and 1,000 Hunanese, again attacked the arsenal but were defeated with considerable losses. Tonight searchlights from the British warship were trained on the customs house and the ammunition magazine.

It is reported that the rebels are falling back throughout the Yang-Tse valley and that the government steadily is gaining the upper hand. The British warships Hampshire, Minolaus and Monmouthshire and the French cruisers Duplex and Montcalm, the Dutch cruiser Holland and the Japanese cruiser Suma arrived here today. Marines were landed from the French vessel.

Situation Unchanged.
Peking, July 25.—The situation in the fighting centers remained unchanged today except for a weakening in the southern forces by reason of desertion from and disensions in their ranks. General Feng-Kwo-Chang with 50,000 men of all arms, yesterday and today was advancing toward Su-Chow, where he will join General Cheng-Hsun and General Chang Tso-Lin, who have 15,000 troops. It is understood that the combined forces will march to Nanking against the southerners who are retreating on that city from Lin Hsuka.

Send Every Soldier South.
London, July 25.—Northern China and Manchuria now have sent every available soldier southward, says a despatch to the Daily Telegraph from Usking correspondent.

"From daybreak," the correspondent continues, "Peking has resounded with bugles as the garrison regiments marched out to entrain for Pukow. I counted twenty-five battalions of infantry, six batteries of modern quick firers, four mountain batteries, two regiments of cavalry and other details, making 30,000 combatants.

"Yesterday two transports carrying 4,000 northern troops, conveyed by three cruisers, left Taku. It is believed they will assault the Wu-Sung forts and attempt their prompt capture.

"It is persistently rumored here that Japan is partly mobilizing the sixth Kwantung and another division. Japan's attitude is quite correct being simply that of a watchful solicitude for the great interests that are being endangered."

A despatch to the Morning Post from Shanghai says it is now admitted that the arsenal there is becoming hard pressed by the southerners. "The garrison," the correspondent adds, "has been harassed by sniping throughout the day and is becoming exhausted as a result of three successive night attacks. It appears that only the support of the navy prevented its fall. The casualties of the southerners to date are 1200 men killed and wounded."

IOWA MAN KILLED ON TRAIN BY WIFE'S FIRST HUSBAND

T. J. Allen of New Virginia Is Shot Down as He Sits Beside His Bride.

New Virginia, Ia., July 25.—T. J. Allen, proprietor of a local meat market, was shot and killed as he sat alongside his wife of little more than a week in a train at the railroad station here this afternoon.

About a week ago Mr. Allen married Mrs. Addie Shetterly of Winter-set in Des Moines. Mrs. Shetterly's former husband, W. I. Shetterly, from whom she had secured a divorce recently, has been arrested and taken to Osceola, charged with the murder.

Shetterly, it is claimed, got off the train on which Mr. Allen intended to go to Osceola and inquired about the station whether Allen lived in New Virginia. He is said to have been told that Allen then was on the train and hurriedly went aboard to the coaches. He shot and caught sight of Allen seated alongside his former wife. Allen died almost instantly.

MULHALL BEGINS TO SHOW SIGNS OF STRAIN

LOBBYIST BECOMES CONFUSED AND AND PLEADS TO BE EXCUSED

Lobby Committee Expects to Wind up the Correspondence Monday—Witness Talks of Controlling Committees in 1911.

Washington, July 25.—With only about 1,000 more of Martin M. Mulhall's letters to read into the record, the senate lobby investigating committee adjourned to day until Monday, expecting to wind up the correspondence of the lobbyist. Toward the close of the day's session Mulhall showed signs of the strain he has been under. He became confused during the reading of one letter and when Senator Walsh suggested that he needed a rest pleaded to be excused for the day. During the day Mulhall talked a good deal of controlling committees in 1911. In one of the letters read he wrote that he was positive "we will fair very much better with the incoming Democrats than we have been doing with the present congress."

Questioned by the committee he said that boast was not made good. Chairman Overman announced to day that attorneys for the N. A. M. and the American Federation of Labor would be allowed to question the witness through the committee provided they submit questions 24 hours before hand and receive the committee's approval. Senator Nelson had a talk with the Democratic members before the decision was announced it is known that he protested vigorously against allowing Mulhall's story to stand without examination by the lawyers for the organizations involved.

During the hearing to day a sharp debate occurred among members of the committee about whether foreign manufacturers and importers had influenced tariff reductions in the present bill.

ST. LOUIS MAN HAS BAD LUCK IN HONEYMOONS

First Wife Was Killed Four Days After Wedding and Second Has Mysteriously Disappeared.

Kansas City, July 25.—No one ever met more concentrated bad luck in honeymoons than Douglas Hertz of St. Louis. Hertz, who until recently has lived in Kansas City, has had two brides in the last ten weeks.

The first, formerly Miss Madeline Lawless of Strong City, Kansas, was killed four days after the wedding in a motor car accident in Saffordville, Kan. Her husband was injured so severely that it was thought he would die. Eight weeks later he was well enough to be married again. The second bride was Miss Mamie Roy of Kansas City. According to a telegram to a friend here today the second bride has disappeared from the new home in St. Louis. Mr. and Mrs. Hertz went to St. Louis immediately after their marriage and lived at a St. Louis hotel. Recently Hertz suggested they go to house-keeping and she acquiesced. They made an appointment to meet at a new address yesterday afternoon. Hertz went there and his wife did not appear. At the hotel he learned that her trunk had been taken away early in the afternoon. Hertz said his wife underwent an operation for appendicitis a year ago and never fully recovered.

CHICAGO PUBLISHER IS CHARGED WITH ABDUCTION

Frederick Morduant Denies Charges and Asserts Arrest "Frame-up."

Chicago, July 25.—Frederick Morduant, publisher of the National Police magazine, National Railroad magazine and other periodicals, was arrested in his offices to night charged with having abducted Miss Josephine Selwood, 51 years old, denied the charges, declaring the arrest was a "frame-up."

Miss Selwood asserts that she knew Morduant as "Jack Randolph" the name under which he sought her acquaintance while she was employed in a State street department store. She alleges that Morduant informed her "they were legally wedded after a mock marriage ceremony had been performed, that he made her a victim of drugs and then deserted her."

DEMOCRATS RAP G. O. P. PROTECTION

Williams Declares Demo- crats Have Found It Diffi- cult to Deal with Tariff

INDUSTRY ON STILTS

Senator Asserts Industrial Diffi- culty Has Been Placed Upon High Stilts by Protection

PENDING BILL AGAINST FARMER

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Senator Williams of Mississippi, in the tariff debate to day said that the Democrats had found it difficult to deal logically with the tariff because the industrial difficulty has been placed upon high stilts by years of Republican protection. This prompted Senator Cummins to ask why the Democrats had not cut off a little of both stilted legs instead of leaving the industrial body crippled with the manufacturing leg longer than the agricultural leg.

Senator Williams replied that they were "afraid it would kill the poor thing" to walk straight all at once.

"You have put the country on stilts," said Senator Williams, addressing the Republicans. "We can't reduce the duties in one bill all we would like to on account of the chaotic artificial condition you have created. We cannot run a thread through this bill for that very reason."

"I agree with the senator from Mississippi that the Payne-Aldrich law gave the American legs stilts that were too high," Senator Cummins said, "but I think the way to correct the trouble is to save off a fair length from both legs. But the senator from Mississippi would saw off one leg entirely and leave the other where it was, thus leaving a very disjointed and perverted body. He should leave the agriculture leg no shorter than the manufacturing leg."

"Well," said Senator Williams, "we found the poor thing with one leg already longer than the other and we took off proportionately from the long leg but still the poor crippled thing will have to go stumbling along."

"But you should equalize the legs," said Senator Cummins. "Oh, we struck a fellow so in the habit of walking with one leg longer than the other that we were afraid it would kill him if both legs were made exactly even," Senator Williams retorted, arousing laughter of the Democrats.

Rice Not an "Every-day" Food

Senator Bristow, discussing an alleged discrepancy in a duty on potato starch with none on potatoes asked Senator Williams why the Democrats put a duty on rice and not on potatoes.

Senator Williams declared that one reason was that the Republicans had begun to hot-house rice and the Democrats could not take all the duty off at once and further that rice was not such an "everyday food as potatoes."

Senator Bristow declared that in the pending bill the Democrats had deliberately and outrageously discriminated against the farmer in favor of the manufacturer.

"The senator means to say," asked Senator Williams, "that the Democrats of the house and senate deliberately got up a scheme to injure the American farmer?"

"I would not want to attribute to the senator from Mississippi and his colleagues such an unworthy purpose," replied Senator Bristow, "but I say they have framed a bill which does."

Reject Amendment.
An amendment by Senator Bristow to reduce the proposed duty on dextrine made from potato starch from 1 1/2 cents per pound to 1 cent was rejected by a vote of 29 to 45. Senators Brandegee, Oliver and Lodge of the minority voted with the Democrats.

Senator Barton offered several amendments but all were rejected. Senator Smoot's amendment to reduce the duty on lanolin or wool grease of 1 cent a pound to one half cent a pound also was rejected. Senator Bristow wanted to know why wool on the free list the Democrats began to tax the by products as soon as the wool left the sheep's back. Senator's Bristow and Reed had a wordy conflict over the tariff on wool grease which extended into partisan argument. The senator from Kansas asked Sen. Reed if he believed in free lead and zinc which come from Missouri. "I voted for it in the caucus," said Senator Reed. "Are you going to vote off it now," asked Bristow. "No, because I am going to support the view of the majority," said Reed. "Then you believe in caucus legislation?" "No," Senator Reed replied, "but I do believe in supporting a policy which all have agreed upon. If I would vote for nothing except what I favored I would have to write the whole bill. But there is a caucus that is far more binding than any other and that is the organization of the interests which have controlled and financed for years made a

BURLESON GIVES FINAL ORDERS FOR CHANGE

WILL ATTEMPT TO PUT NEW REG- ULATIONS IN FORCE AUGUST 15TH.

Interstate Commerce Commission Defends Its Action of Giving Its Consent to the New Parcel Post Regulations.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—So urgently did Senator Bristow and Bryan to day attack the proposition that the proposed changes in parcel post rates would result in increased profits for the government that little was said at the hearing before the senate committee about the power of the postmaster general to make such changes.

Later in the day Postmaster General Burleson demonstrated his determination not to allow his plans to be interfered with by issuing the final order putting the new regulations in force on Aug. 15. At the hearing Chairman Clark of the interstate commerce commission defended the commission for giving its consent to the new regulations. Another meeting of the senate post-office committee was called for to morrow. At that time Senator Bryan will urge a favorable report on his bill to repeal the authority of the postmaster general to make changes of the nature in question. Senator Bristow will support this movement. Senators Hoke Smith, Swanson and Chilton will oppose it. Senator Bryan announced to night that if he were defeated in the committee he would renew the contest on the floor of the senate and would do so in time to prevent the postmaster general's orders going into effect on Aug. 15.

Unable to Agree to Disagree.
In another stormy session today the Democratic members of the house banking and currency committee found themselves unable even to agree to disagree on the administration currency bill. They adjourned until Monday when, after President Wilson had a talk with Representative Ragdale of South Carolina who yesterday presented to the committee the so-called insurgent amendments to the bill the struggle to reach some sort of agreement will be resumed. While the committee marked time to day during a session of the house that demanded the presence of its members on the floor, President Wilson had conferences with Representative Wingo who has opposed several parts of the administration bill and with Representative Glass, the chairman of the committee, following which it was planned that the bill be taken out of the hands of the Democratic members of the committee and be sent to a house caucus if a vote demonstrated they were unable to agree. Accordingly when the conference met after the house adjourned, Representative Wingo offered a motion that the bill be submitted to a Democratic caucus to be called a week from Monday and that the committee members in the meantime thresh out as many of the differences as possible. Representative Ragdale offered a motion to send the bill to the caucus immediately without any recommendation and with all amendments pending. Other motions followed in quick succession and confusion ensued.

The discussion became rather acrimonious. Representative Ragdale calling Chairman Glass to order for a published statement that the chairman believed the committee unable to agree. Chairman Glass repudiated the statement. The various motions were laid on the table and the committee adjourned until Monday.

REVIEWS SEVENTH REGIMENT.
Springfield, Ill., July 25.—Governor Dunne accompanied by Mrs. Dunne to day reviewed the seventh infantry after having been received at the gate and escorted to general headquarters by the First Battalion commanded by Major Joseph Moore. Governor Dunne highly complimented the seventh regiment commanded by Colonel Moriarity.

And your party has written a bill," Senator Bristow said, "which is more for the benefit of these interests than any other tariff bill ever presented. It places on the list articles of independent manufacture and protects those manufactured by the trusts." When the senate adjourned hours of argument had delayed progress in the chemical schedule so that less than ten paragraphs had been approved during the day.

REPUBLICAN FILLBUSTER.

Shackled by a Republican filibuster against all business organizations to force the reopening of the debate on the Caminetti case—the house to day dragged along through four hours of unnecessary roll calls and finally adjourned until to morrow because enough members to make up a quorum had taken themselves off to the baseball game.

Majority Leader Underwood succeeded in getting and keeping a quorum together long enough to approve the journal for the last three days through three dreary roll calls. Then another roll call passed an unimportant resolution and the hour of the ball game having arrived the quorum melted away.

Mr. Underwood wanted to put through a motion to adjourn until next Tuesday, but was unable to get enough members present to take a record vote. When the attendance had dwindled to 161, 55 less than a quorum, he moved to adjourn until to morrow.

AUSTRIA DEMANDS CESSATION OF WAR

WILL NOT ALLOW BULGARIA TO BE TOO GREATLY HUMILIATED

Should Greece and Serbia Oppose an Armistice a Roumanian Army, Acting Mandatary of Austria and Russia Will Prevent Attacks on Sofia.

LONDON, July 25.—The important development to day in the Balkan situation was a demand presented by the Austrian representatives at Athens and Belgrade for an immediate cessation of hostilities, together with a warning that Austria will not allow Bulgaria to be too greatly humiliated. It was declared in Vienna to night that should Greece and Serbia still oppose an armistice a Roumanian army, acting as a mandatary of Austria and Russia, will prevent any attack on Sofia and that Austria will take even more energetic steps, if necessary, to stop the war. Should it be true that Austria and Russia thus have agreed to co-operate the pressure exercised doubtless will be effective.

In the military sphere the principal news is that the Serbians have invested the ancient fortress at Vidin, Bulgaria, 130 miles south of Belgrade. The fall of the fortress cannot long be delayed—in fact a Belgrade dispatch reports that General Kututcheff's troops already are beginning to surrender.

Battle Near Tzarevosslo.

London, July 26.—A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Bucharest, dated 9 o'clock Friday night says:

"News has been received from Sofia of a terrific battle between Serbians and Bulgarians near Tzarevosslo on the River Brogalaita in which the Bulgarians were victorious. The Greeks helped the Serbians whose casualties were 1,600. It is probable the story is greatly exaggerated."

A dispatch to the Post from Bucharest says that owing to the appeal of the king of Roumania the Serbians and Greeks have suspended their forward movement. The correspondent adds that the Roumanian troops have made themselves responsible for the safety of King Ferdinand and Sofia.

Greeks Occupy Dedagatch.

Saloniki, July 25.—The Greek fleet has occupied Dedagatch, the terminus of Adrianople-Saloniki railway on the Aegean sea. The Bulgarians set the town afire before evacuating it.

JOSEPH FISH CHARGED WITH COMPLICITY IN INCENDIARY FIRES

True Bills Are Voted by Grand Jury Against Well Known Chicago Fire Insurance Adjuster.

Chicago, July 25.—True bills charging complicity in incendiary fires were voted today by the grand jury against Joseph Fish, head of Joseph Fish & Co., public fire insurance adjusters, and nine others, two of whom are reported to be women. The action followed the testimony of Mrs. Fannie Korshak, whose husband is now a fugitive from justice in connection with indictments previously returned by the grand jury as a result of its investigation of the operations of the alleged arson trust. Mrs. Korshak is said to have named Fish as one of the members of the alleged ring. The indictments voted today are said to be based on the jury's investigation of five incendiary fires by which the insurance companies were defrauded out of many thousands of dollars. Fish is a wealthy member of a number of clubs and one of the best known public fire insurance adjusters in the city. The indictments, it is expected, will be returned in court either to morrow or next week.

GOVERNOR EXPECTS EARLY SETTLEMENT

Executive Believes Labor Troubles Will Be of Short Duration

WILL NOT RECALL TROOPS

State Troops Will Be Retained in Strike Belt Until Settle- ment Is Agreed Upon

MAY DECLARE MARTIAL LAW

LANSING, Mich., July 25.—Governor Ferris will not order the removal of the state troops from the copper country until he is assured positively that lives and property are not in danger. He believes an early settlement will be brought about and that the labor troubles in the upper peninsula will be over in a comparatively short time. The governor arrived in Lansing this afternoon and plunged at once into the huge piles of telegrams and letters awaiting his attention.

Martial law will not be declared in the copper country until the chief executive and his advisers are positive the situation demands such an extreme measure. However the governor is fortified with an opinion from Attorney General Fellows that it will be possible for him to take such action if the civil authorities are unable to preserve order and protect life and property.

Unless something happens which absolutely demands his presence here Governor Ferris will probably go to Big Rapids late tonight as his wife is seriously ill in that city. He has no present intention of going to the strike district.

Would Welcome Governor

Calumet, Mich., July 25.—Reports that Governor W. N. Ferris would come to Houghton tonight to help arrange a settlement of the strike of 10,000 copper mine employees tonight brought out an unofficial statement from the mine managers attorneys that they would welcome the governor's presence.

Any plans for arbitration under the direction of the governor were soon dispelled however, by the announcement that Mr. Ferris had no present intentions of coming to the copper country or of withdrawing the militia which is protecting the mines against any further outbreak of the strikers.

Officers of the miners' union to day telegraphed Governor Ferris urging him to come to Calumet and investigate conditions and use his good office to effect a settlement.

Disorders occurred spasmodically in the outlying districts of the mining country to day but in no case did the union manifestants equal the mob spirit which appeared in the attack upon Calumet yesterday. A call for troops came from the South Range when union sympathizers drove away the sheriff's deputies at the Baltic, Tri-Mountain and other mines.

The mines issued a statement to night in which they reviewed the grievances at length.

Reinforcements Arrive.

A belated train brought additional troops into Calumet at midnight. The reinforcements included companies from Saint Ste Marie, Cheyboygan and Apena.

ONE KILLED AND ANOTHER INJURED WHEN CAR TURNS OVER

Twelve Year Old Lad Dies When Car His Father Is Driving Over- turns in Ditch.

Mr. and Mrs. Keeling and two daughters were not injured. The party was on its way from Fort Scott to Indianapolis.

While the car was running about 25 miles an hour it struck loose dirt in an attempt to keep it out of the ditch it was overturned.

POLICE RESCUE DRIVERS.

Chicago, July 25.—A crowd of men and boys threatened violence to Charles Hirsch and James Sullivan today when the auto truck they were driving struck and killed James Angolino, 2 years old, in front of 562 Polk street. A patrol wagon filled with police rescued the men. They will be held pending the outcome of the coroner's inquest over the body of the victim.

FARMERS WIFE KILLED.

Mason City, Iowa, July 25.—Mrs. S. S. Strand aged 39, wife of a farmer living near Thompson, was thrown from a hay-wagon and instantly killed at her home to day, when a swarm of bees attacked the horses and caused them to plunge. A wheel of the wagon passed over the woman's head crushing it.

well defined policy before events reached a critical stage. The first step in the formulation of a policy will be taken tomorrow when Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson will bring to the president and Secretary Bryan first hand information of the situation there. Mr. Bryan to day announced emphatically that there was no disposition on the part of the administration here to interpose. Ambassador Wilson, about the numerous reports alleging activity on his part in connection with the downfall of Madero and the establishment of the Huerta regime. He added that the ambassador had been called merely to throw light on present conditions in the troubled republic.

After Ambassador Wilson has conferred with Secretary Bryan he will talk with President Wilson, and probably will be asked to appear before the senate committee on foreign relations. That Ambassador Wilson had expressed on his arrival in New York opposition to the proposals for mediation and had indicated his sympathy with the desire of the Huerta government to be recognized were communicated informally to Mr. Bryan who made no comment. He said he would arrange his personal interview with the ambassador before discussing these subjects.

To Appear Before Committee. Immediately after his conference with the ambassador, Mr. Bryan is scheduled to appear before the senate committee on foreign relations further to present the administration plan for a protectorate over Nicaragua but on the same occasion, it is expected that he will be asked to outline developments toward a Mexican policy. Members of the committee as well as the senate generally are strongly inclined toward some executive action by which all factions in the Mexican dispute can get arms from the United States. It was apparent tonight that the present policy of the administration was to prevent all shipments of arms to either side pending a final determination on this point.

It is believed that after the president and Secretary Bryan have obtained from Ambassador Wilson his own ideas and interpretations of the political situation in the Mexican capital, the American government in a measure will reiterate views expressed in the Latin-American statement made by President Wilson shortly after his inauguration in which he proclaimed that the United States had nothing to seek in Latin-America but the welfare of its sister republics. With this in mind the recent suggestion of an American offer of mediation may be followed as an evidence of the good intentions of the Washington government.

Will Not Consider Mediation. Information from federal as well as constitutional sources to day, however, was to the effect that neither side would consider mediation by a foreign government. The National pride of the Mexicans, it was pointed out, would not submit to interference in internal politics.

Should it develop that overtures of the United States toward peace were not favorably received it is expected that the Washington government would thereupon pronounce itself out of the question of mediation in all probability lifting the embargo so that all sides can buy munitions of war. Such a development it is believed in many quarters here would so strengthen the constitutional cause as to bring matters to a crisis speedily and possibly a quick overthrow of the Huerta government a contingency which many Washington officials believe is inevitable though reports of a strengthening of the federal armies are being advanced constantly by officials of the Huerta administration.

Declines to Talk Mexico. Tucson, Ariz., July 25.—Secretary of War Garrison inspected Fort Huachuca to day.

He arrived here tonight, departing half an hour later for the Pacific coast. He declined to discuss the Mexican situation, explaining that he would talk about anything but Mexico.

At Naco he saw the scene of the recent battle. A lonely border patrol cheered the war secretary as his train skirted along the international line.

CARL MORRIS DROPS AL BENEDICT IN FIFTH ROUND

Morris Has Best of the Bout All the Way and Blocks Every Effort of His Opponent to Land.

Joplin, Mo., July 25.—Carl Morris, the Oklahoma heavyweight, knocked out Al Benedict of Oklahoma in the fifth round of a scheduled fifteen round fight here to night.

Morris was not forced to extend himself at any time, Benedict being at his mercy most of the time.

In the second, third and fourth rounds, Benedict receiving severe punishment and early in the fifth the Oklahoma sent him to the floor for the count of nine with a terrific right swing to the chin. When Benedict arose, Morris landed a right to the jaw which put him out. Morris proved the better fighter and successfully blocked every effort of his opponent to land effectively.

SEE KPARDON FOR ACTOR-MURDERER

Philadelphia, Pa., July 25.—Actors and other members of the theatrical profession throughout America are to be asked to sign a petition for the pardon of George Marion, an old time actor, who is serving a life term in the Eastern Penitentiary here for the murder of his wife four years ago in Wilkesbarre. Clemency is to be asked on the ground that Marion is dying of tuberculosis. Daniel Hart, city treasurer of Wilkesbarre and an old friend of Marion, is circulating the petitions that will be presented to the board of pardons.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 25.—The murder committed by George Marion for whom a pardon is being sought by members of the theatrical profession, occurred in this city August 20 1909. In early life Marion had been an actor and in later years was employed as a theatrical advance agent. He had lived in Wilkesbarre, but at the time of the tragedy his home was in Atlanta, Ga.

Marion and his victim, his common law wife, who was formerly Miss Frances Lee, of Zion City, Ill., had, it was alleged, been living together as husband and wife for seven years. Several weeks before the tragedy it is claimed the woman ran away with another man, taking her child with her. Marion traced them to this city, and through the chief of police he arranged to meet his wife at police headquarters.

When they met at police headquarters, he kissed her and both appeared happy. Turning to the chief of police, Marion asked the latter to step from the office for a few moments while he spoke to his wife in private. The chief, thinking he was accomplishing a kind act by bringing husband and wife together, readily consented. As soon as he left the room Marion asked his wife if she would return to Atlanta with him. She refused whereupon he pulled a revolver and shot her dead.

Marion was indicted and tried on a charge of first degree murder. His attorneys made a hard fight for him on a plea of temporary insanity. He was convicted, however, and sentenced to death. Later the sentence was commuted to life imprisonment.

RUSSELL MORROWKILLED BY A CAR*YOUTH MEETS INSTANT DEATH
IN ST. LOUIS.

First Clung To Step of Trailer Then Fell To Rail—Was Son of H. C. Morrow, Formerly of White Hall Where Funeral Will Be Held Sunday—Young Man Well Known In This City.

The sad intelligence reached Jacksonville Friday through a telegram to G. B. Andre, of the sudden death of Russell Morrow, son of H. C. Morrow, who formerly lived in White Hall, but moved to St. Louis about two months ago. The young man was attempting to catch a car in St. Louis when he missed his hold and fell beneath the wheels of a trailer, his skull being crushed, death ensuing instantly. His father was in Jacksonville last evening having come down from Chicago with G. B. Andre and family. He remained here over night and went on to St. Louis Friday morning reaching there after the sad accident.

The Morrow family is well known in Jacksonville, where they had visited often, and the news of the accident came as a great shock to everyone. Young Morrow was an exceptionally bright fellow and aside from his varied talents, among them a pianist, he possessed a fine disposition and wherever he went he made many and fast friends.

An inquest will be held this morning after which the remains will be sent to White Hall arriving there this afternoon at 4:20. Mrs. Morrow and daughter Miss Mignon went to White Hall last night and Mr. Morrow will accompany the remains to day. The funeral will be conducted at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon and a large number from Jacksonville expect to attend the services.

The Post-Dispatch gives the following account of the accident: Russell Atwood Morrow, 17 years old, son of H. C. Morrow, vice-president of the Bankers' Trust Co., was killed under the wheels of a Delmar trailer at 7:30 o'clock this morning. A few minutes after he had left a merry house party at his home, 6130 Washington boulevard.

The car, running east on Delmar boulevard, had made the near-side stop at the west side of the Lake avenue crossing, and had started again, when young Morrow, who had run a block, tried to swing aboard the rear platform of the front car at the east side of the crossing. Although he was a trained athlete, he failed to secure hold, and an instant later, amid the screams and groans of onlooking passengers, he was dragged under the front wheels of the trailer.

Before the motorman, George Wiehardt, could stop the cars, the youth's skull had been crushed. Less than fifteen minutes after his departure from home, a policeman called there and told his elder brother, Arnold Morrow, of his death.

News Taken to His Mother.
The young man told his sister, Miss Mignon Morrow, 16 years old, and she took the news to her mother. The father had been out of the city and was expected to return on a morning train, and the first understanding of the policeman's words was that some accident had befallen the head of the family.

The Morrow family removed to St. Louis a month ago from White Hall, Ill. H. C. Morrow is president of the White Hall Sewer Pipe company, and decided to leave that place only when his St. Louis interests had come to outweigh those in his home town.

Russell Morrow was a student last year in Culver Military Academy, at Culver, Ind. Last summer he saved a boy in White Hall, Clyde King, from drowning, and for this act his name had been suggested to the trustees of the Carnegie Hero Fund as a candidate for a hero medal. A card had been sent to him to be filled out with his account of the occurrence, and this card was in his pocket when he was killed.

Hurrying to His Employment.
He had planned to enter Smith Academy in the fall and had taken a position during the summer in the Scruggs, Vandervoort & Barney store. He was due to report there at 8 a. m. and was hurrying to make sure of being one time, when the fatal accident occurred.

A few days ago two of his friends, Lawson Arnold of Ohio and Byron Carpenter of Jacksonville, Ill., came to St. Louis to visit him. Two girl friends were also visiting his sister, and the three youths and three girls were planning an outing for Saturday afternoon. This was the subject of conversation as the young man left the breakfast table.

The youth's body was removed to the morgue without being taken to the Morrow home. The brother said arrangements would be made for its removal to an undertaking parlor as soon as the coroner's approval could be obtained.

Witnesses who were standing on the rear platform of the front car or sitting in the front bay window of the trailer, said they did not see how the fatality could have been prevented by any act of the crew.

Dragged Along the Track.
The cars, though they had run hardly their own length after the stop, were under a good headway, and the youth's fall was so quick that he could hardly have been saved. He was dragged along the track, investigation showed, for about 25 feet.

As witnesses, the police took the names of J. P. Davis, 2612 Genevieve avenue; M. Bollinger, 5181 Delmar boulevard, and Daniel Patterson, 5727 Von Ersen avenue.

HAVE FINISHED STUDY OF RURAL LIFE IN EUROPE

American Commissioners Return
After Investigating Agricultural Conditions in Europe.

New York, July 25.—Back from Europe where it has been investigating agricultural conditions, the American commission on agricultural co-operation announced tonight that it has obtained information which it is believed will enable it to prepare its report and submit the document before the end of the present year. The commissioners have prepared a letter outlining their work in Europe to be sent to the governors of the thirty-six states represented.

Co-operation among farmers, credit systems and the organization of rural life in Europe and other countries have been the particular form of study. The letter says it found the prevailing rate of interest paid by farmers for short time loans from four to five and one-half per cent on terms "generally better than available to American farmers. One class of organization supplies such personal loans and others long time land mortgage credits. Land mortgage credit has been organized so as to place a collective security back of bonds issued by land mortgage societies in contrast with the system of marketing individual loans upon individual mortgages.

"The organizations for production and distribution," the letter says, "of farm products follow co-operative lines. Farm products are sold by the producer at a relatively higher price and are bought by the consumer at a relatively lower price because the cost of distribution is considerably lowered by co-operative marketing."

STATE HOSPITAL PHYSICIANS CLOSE SESSION

Dr. Norbury Speaks on Prevention and Cure of Insanity—Addresses by Drs. Hawley, Bles and Potter.

"The Modern Thought on the Prevention and Treatment of Insanity" was the subject of the first address by Dr. Norbury Friday morning of the closing session of the Illinois State Hospitals Medical association in Springfield. He ascribed insanity to faulty physiological and social conditions, made a plea for intensive study of the modes of life and the heredity of the individual and spoke of the relation of mental derangement to the complexities of modern civilization.

Dr. M. C. Hawley of the state hospital at Watertown, spoke on "Mimicry in Mania."

Dr. Hawley was followed by a very clear exposition of the methods requisite to the prevention of insanity by Dr. Victor A. Bles of Elgin. "The Use of Vaccine in Scarletina," by Dr. C. A. Potter of the school for boys at St. Charles, closed the meeting of the association.

The remedy for the large amount of insanity in modern life, according to Dr. Norbury, lies with the individual. The problem must be worked out by the middle classes.

PYTHIANS MAY ATTEND CHAUTAUQUA.

McCarthy's Arabs May Give Drill at Quiver Lake.

At the meeting Friday evening of the Jacksonville lodge No. 2 K. of P., considerable interest was manifested in the Knights of Pythias day at the Quiver Lake chautauqua at Havana, July 29. It was suggested that McCarthy's Arabs, the D. O. K. K. drill team, be present on this special day and show what the K. of P.'s of Jacksonville can do by putting on one of their wonderful drills. This would also serve to bring the city of Jacksonville to the notice of the people of Havana and would do much to advertise the Jacksonville chautauqua. Several members of the lodge expressed the hope that the matter be taken up by the chapter of commerce and that the drill team ought to be accompanied by as many Jacksonville citizens as possible.

The principal speaker of the day chosen by the K. of P.'s of Havana, Prof. W. W. Carnes of Chicago, is prominent in the councils of the lodge and is known by many people here.

NEGROES PLAN CELEBRATION.

At Semi-Centennial of Emancipation.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Illinois commission to conduct a celebration in 1915 of the half century anniversary of negro freedom, of which Bishop Samuel Fallows, of Chicago, is the president, held in the office of Governor Dunne who is president ex-officio, it was decided to make the celebration national in its scope, and congress will be asked to make an appropriation for the purpose. The place for holding the celebration has not been decided upon. President Wilson will be invited to become the chief patron and the governors of all the states of the union and the chief dignitaries of the United States, both in state, church and educational and allied departments, will be asked to be vice presidents. Invitations have been sent to several hundred prominent men and women throughout the United States to serve either as vice-presidents or members of the finance committee, of which W. C. Niblack, of Chicago, is the chairman. Responses accepting the position of vice-president have been received from the governors of New York, Minnesota and South Dakota.

It is planned to have an exposition to show the work done in all departments of industry, education, etc., by the negro during the fifty years of freedom.

The commission is composed as follows: Gov. Edward F. Dunne, president, ex-officio; Bishop Samuel Fallows, of Chicago, president; Mrs. Susan Lawrence Joergens Dahl, of Springfield, vice-president; Major George W. Ford, custodian of the National cemetery at Camp Butler, Springfield, treasurer; Thomas Wallace Swann of Springfield, secretary; the Rev. A. J. Carey, of Chicago; Senator John Dalley, of Peoria; Senator W. Duff Perry of Mt. Vernon; Representative R. R. Jackson, of Chicago, and Representative Medill McCormick, of Chicago.

THE TEMPERATURES.

The temperatures for Friday, according to G. H. Hall, weather observer at Alexander, were, maximum 84 and minimum 54.

Taking Big Chances.

It is too great a risk to depend upon neighbors or sending for medicine in case of a sudden attack of bowel complaint. In almost every neighborhood someone has died from cholera morbus that could have easily been saved had the proper medicine been at hand. Then think of the suffering that must be endured until medicine can be obtained. The safe way is to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy. It has never been known to fail, and has undoubtedly saved the lives of many people. Buy it now. It only costs a quarter. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

BROWNS AND WASHINGTON PLAY FIFTEEN INNING TIE

Each Team Made 8 Runs, 14 Hits and 3 Errors—Johnson Struckout Sixteen Browns.

Washington, July 25.—It was a tie all around in today's game—each marking up an equal number of runs, hits and errors. All the scoring was done in the early innings not a run being made after the eighth, the fifteen inning contest ending in an 8 to 8 tie. The game was called on account of darkness.

Johnson struckout sixteen men. Agnew was hit on the jaw by Engel in the fourth inning while at bat and sustained a broken jaw bone. He probably will be out of the game for two weeks.

PIRATES POUND PHILLIE HURLERS FOR EASY VICTORY

Seaton, Chalmers and Marshall Were Equally Bad and Issued Nine Bases on Balls.

Pittsburgh, July 25.—Nine bases on balls, two hit batsmen, wild pitches and eight hits enabled Philadelphia pitchers to walk away with today's game by the score of 12 to 2.

Seaton, Chalmers and Marshall were equally bad and Pirate hits following their walks rolled up the score. Carey made what is believed to be a record by scoring five runs though he did not get a hit in the entire game. He lauded in the first inning on a fumble by Knabe. On his next four appearances at the plate he walked and he scored at five times. He stole four bases and twice he made two bases on wild pitches. The score:

IRISH CHAMPION DEFEATS MAURICE E. McLOUGHLIN

San Francisco Man Was Not in Form R. N. Williams Wins From C. P. Dixon.

Wimbledon, England, July 25.—The United States lawn tennis team attacking the English holders of the Dwight F. Davis international lawn tennis trophy had to content itself to day with a drawn battle after two very hard fought five set matches in which J. C. Parke, the Irish champion beat Maurice E. McLoughlin of San Francisco and the other American contestant R. Norris Williams gained a victory over the veteran C. P. Dixon.

The crowd went wild with delight when McLoughlin failed to place Parke's last drive. McLoughlin then shook hands with his rival who was seized and embraced by a number of friends.

The great majority of the crowd was naturally behind Parke, but the small American contingent present gave due recognition to the plucky fight by their countryman who was clearly not in form.

McLoughlin showed a flash of his old form when he took the fourth set 6 to 1, but the effort apparently sapped all his reserve force. McLoughlin was an intense disappointment to his friends showing only occasional flashes of his usual brilliancy. Williams on the other hand beat the English veteran at his own game and proved much cooler than his opponent over generalizing him in the finer points of the game.

CHAUFFEUR GETS FOURTEEN YEARS

Chicago, July 25.—A jury in the criminal court to day returned a verdict of guilty against Fred Hrodek, a chauffeur, charged with the murder of Patrick J. Condon, who was run over and killed by an automobile driven by the defendant. His punishment was fixed at 14 years imprisonment in the penitentiary. Fred Cordez who was in the car with Hrodek when the victim was killed was found not guilty.

SOME OFF-SIDE CHUTES

Old Jul. Pluv. went on a tear in the east on Thursday and prevented all National League games for the day. And what a blessing the rain was—it prevented New York from winning; it also kept St. Louis from pre-empting Joe Tinker's lease of the sub-cellar.

Now prepare to pity poor old Chicago. Comiskey is going to inflict upon the Garden City public a game of cricket, the match to be held at White Sox park Aug. 28-30. With time off for lunch, this national game of old Albion, to finish, takes anywhere from two days to a lifetime. The visiting Australian team will be the attraction.

One by one old Father Time is hanging the call of "30" upon the old timers. On the present eastern trip Callahan is minus the services of three of the American league's most famous stars—Walsh, White and Sullivan. Big Ed is suffering with rheumatism in his right shoulder, and will take a course of sulphur baths to get in readiness for the city series against the Cubs in October. Doc White will rest up and strive to get his "Kithgough" wing in shape for the next invasion from the east, while Billy Sullivan will be kept busy coaching the young material and scouting for a few more high priced beauties.

Ban Johnson has disallowed Frank Chance's protest on the Chase-Borton-Zeider deal.

Tom Needham is to remain first catcher of the Cubs until Jimmy Archer's finger mends sufficiently to allow him to work regularly. Evers believes Deerfort is possessed of a bunch of the supernatural, because whenever the Irish bard performs behind the mask the Cubs are up and at 'em, while when the Hibernian detective Roger officiates, the jinx begins to work overtime.

Horace Fogel is going to wreck organized baseball as now organized, maybe! He has press syndicated a story of $3,000 words in his fight on the national commission. Failing through the anti-trust laws to disturb present arrangements the resourceful Horace is going to organize a new league all by himself, and if money will buy them (he says he has millions behind him) he will capture all of the stars in the two major leagues and will plant teams in New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Cleveland, Indianapolis, Chicago, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, Kansas City and three other localities yet to be named. At the time this column went to press Fogel had not yet come out of it—the pipe remains nearly half filled.

Lefty Liefeld has decided not to enter upon a business career and will continue to shoot them over when he can. He has signed a contract with the Seals of San Francisco and is now on the coast ready and willing to get into action.

Ad Wolgast has parted with Tom Jones, his manager. Wolgast says there was no friction, the separation being purely a matter of business. He will manage his own affairs until such time as he again captures the championship, when he will put Tom back on the job. To one figuring the weight of a sapling, Tom Jones is out of a job for the balance of his lifetime.

George Browne, ye oldetyme star, when banished to the Northern league by Joe Cantillon, packed his grip and shot into Chicago, and joined forces with the Federal league. He is now cavorting in the mid-garden for Keeley's cellar aspirants.

Henry Berry, owner of the Los Angeles team of the Pacific Coast league, will permit himself to be penalized for carrying an over-plus of players. Rather than release any of his men—several are on the hospital list—he is willing to break the baseball law and suffer the consequences.

The Cadillac, Mich., bearcat has turned philanthropist. Wolgast wants to box Willie Ritchie again for the championship, the latter, if he so desires, to keep all of the "gelt." He is willing to meet the champion any place and at any time—just for the sake of convincing the native son that he is yet king of the light-weights. Money is no object with Ad. "Lawd sakes," No! He cares no more for the filthy stuff than a fat hog does for a choice wallow in a shady nook. Joe Rivers also is out in the spotlight with another challenge to Ritchie. And when everything is figured out nobody would have the heart to deny the Mexican his desire (to again hook up with the champion. When Joe entered innocuous desecrated last Independence day he awakened $8,644 wealthier than he was before Ritchie placed that cross-counter sleep-producer. And it is the money these would-be "champions" are after—easy picking, as our erudite galley juggler ejaculated when he dropped the board of trade quotations.

A STRONG REFERENCE.
A young man recently applied for a position with a large printing house, and not having a letter of reference, offered his bank book. It showed a regularity of entries of deposit. It was a very strong recommendation, indicating character and persistence, which finally secured for him a good position.

These Summer Days
In warm weather the average person does not eat as much meat as in the cooler months. There is all the more reason why the steak or roast that comes on your table should be of the best possible quality.
Buy the "Coverly Kind" of meat and you will agree with us that there is a "difference."

RESULTS OF WORK IN CATTLE FEEDING

H. P. RUSK GIVES DETAILS OF RECENT EXPERIMENTS.

Winter Feeding and Exact Results Obtained With 2-year-old Steers in Herd of Seventy-five Head of High Grade Hereford and Angus Calves.

A brief abstract of an address by Mr. H. P. Rusk at the Illinois Cattle Feeders' convention, Urbana, Ill., July 15, 1913.

Mr. Rusk began his talk with a short resume of the history of winter feeding in the United States. In part he said as follows:

"Winter feeding originated in the Ohio valley a little more than a century ago when George Renick, one of the resourceful Virginians who had settled that region, conceived the idea of fattening cattle on shock corn during the winter months and trailing them to seaboard markets during the summer.

"The expansion and evolution of the industry to one of national importance has been intricately interwoven with the development that has taken place in the production of corn. Beginning with the early days of the nineteenth century, when it was practically impossible to get corn out of the Mississippi Valley to the markets of the world, the business of converting corn into beef and tallow and driving it to market on the hoof rapidly developed in importance. In the early days of winter feeding roughages were plentiful and cheap, and their very cheapness a ration of shelled corn, cottonseed meal and corn silage increased the rate and cost of gains, produced a more valuable finish, and yielded larger profits.

3. The substitution of alfalfa hay for half the silage in the middle of the experiment increased the rate and cost of gains, produced a higher finish, and yielded larger profits.

4. The addition of cottonseed meal and silage to a ration of corn and alfalfa hay produced more rapid gains and a higher finish, reduced the cost of gains, and yielded a larger profit.

5. The addition of oats to a ration of shelled corn and alfalfa reduced the rate of gains, increased the cost of gains and produced less profit.

ON THE CARE OF SHEEP AND DEVELOPMENT OF STOCK

Question. My sheep are very badly infested with ticks. What can I do to eradicate them? A. O. W.

Answer. The surest, safest and most practical way of eradicating ticks is by dipping. A thorough dipping in most any of the proprietary dips which are on the market will kill these parasites. One owning even a small flock of sheep cannot afford to be without a dipping outfit. A tank made of galvanized iron may be purchased for a few dollars or one may be constructed in the farm from concrete which will be very satisfactory.

After the sheep are sheared in the spring, the ticks have little or no protection so they leave the older sheep and take refuge on the lambs. If the entire flock is dipped at this time less dip is required than when the sheep are in full fleece and the

CAUSE OF SPOILAGE OF CANNED GOODS

SPOILAGE OF ALL CANNED GOODS IS DUE TO BACTERIA.

Results of Recent Canning Investigations Show That Some Bacteria Resist High Temperatures and Grow as Soon as Cans Cool.

(By Bronson Barlow, M. S., Laboratory of Bacteriology, University of Illinois.)

The Illinois State Canners' association maintains a research fund for canning investigations at the state university. The fund is used by the laboratory of bacteriology to study the bacteria causing spoilage of canned goods. This work is, for practical reasons, carried on in the laboratory of the Gibson Canning Co., Gibson City, Ill. We are greatly indebted to Mr. McCall, the manager of this factory, for the kindness with which he put his factory and his experience at our disposal.

Among other things, we investigated the cause of a peculiar trouble in a canning factory which throws entirely new light upon the possibilities of spoilage in canned foods. The following is a brief report of the results; a more detailed record is given in the "Canner."

A factory in Illinois which cans a large amount of sweet corn had considerable loss through swelling of the cans during the last season. The trouble occurred only during the first 11 days of the canning season, and amounted to a total loss of 3660 cases, 24 cans to the case; this was 17 per cent of the standard corn canned in this time.

Bacteria the Cause.
Practically all of the spoilage of canned goods is due to bacteria. The canner tries to kill them by heat, but sometimes some very resistant forms survive, and begin to grow as soon as the cans cool, and feed on the canned food and thus spoil it. Usually they form gas, and then the cans swell. There can be no doubt about this, because we can see the bacteria in the spoiled corn with a good microscope, we can even photograph them. In good canned foods, we find no bacteria except once in a while a dead one. We can also take the bacteria from a spoiled can, and grow them in sterilized milk, or corn or meat broth. Most of them grow best at about 100 degrees F.

The canner tries to heat his goods just long enough to kill all bacteria, but no longer, as long heating imparts an overcooked flavor to the materials. He has learned by long experience the time and temperature day had been tested, and the samples kept while the corn in the warehouse spoiled. This was against all experience, and required careful investigation. Further, in analyzing the spoiled corn we could see the bacteria, but they would not grow. All the common methods were tried without success. For a long time, we were unable to explain the situation. Finally, the solution was found: There have been described a number of peculiar bacteria, which can grow only at unusually high temperatures. Such bacteria have been found in manure, earth, milk, and other materials. At the temperatures where the common bacteria grow best, these bacteria do not grow at all; 100 degrees F. is too cool for them and they do not begin to develop until about 110-120 degrees F. Such bacteria were found to be the cause of swelling in this factory. The corn, after being heated, is cooled in water, but in many factories, the cooling is not very efficient; in this particular factory, the cans were so hot when they came out of the cooling trough that the men who handled them had to wear gloves to protect their hands. The cans were stacked in large piles, and retained the heat for many days; this gave the bacteria a good chance to grow and spoil the corn. The cans in the center of the stacks kept warm longer than those on the outside, and therefore, the greatest loss was in the center of the stacks. The sample cans in the incubator did not spoil because they were kept at 100 degrees which is too cold for this peculiar kind of bacteria; we found them to thrive best at about 150 degrees. Thus, the incubator proved to be of no value in this case.

Efficient Cooling Remedy.
It is possible that these bacteria develop in the ears of corn which is brought to the factory and has to be kept in piles before it can be worked up. Such corn gets very warm, and this may give the bacteria a chance to multiply. Efficient cooling will prevent this trouble entirely, for after the cans are once cooled below 110 degrees they will very seldom set as warm as that for any length of time. Below this temperature, the bacteria remain alive, but cannot grow nor cause spoilage. Still safer would it be, however, to test the corn for these bacteria by keeping samples at 140 degrees. A special incubator for this purpose has been constructed, and the details will be published in a bulletin of the university which can be had free of charge by applying to the laboratory of bacteriology.

Though this is the first example of spoilage by such heat-loving bacteria, it is probable that their occurrence is quite common. We would be thankful for any information of spoilage in factories which is similar to the one described. We should also like to get samples of so-called

PERMANENT BASIS FOR AGRICULTURE

ELEMENTS REQUIRED FOR PRO- DUCTION OF CROPS MUST BE MAINTAINED.

Agriculture May Be Put Upon a Permanent Basis by the Use of Crushed Limestone, Phosphorus and Practicing Good Systems of Crop Rotation.

(By H. W. Stewart, Soil Physics, University of Illinois.)

Humanity is dependent upon agriculture for its existence. Still we see all around us farms, which, if the owners were to pay themselves a nominal salary, would not produce enough to pay interest on the principal invested. The farmer and his farm will continue to become poorer so long as he persists in removing from his land the largest crops his soil will produce, without making any provision for restoring to that soil and maintaining in it those elements required for the production of crops. Agriculture must be put upon a permanent basis. Very briefly, this may be brought about by the use of crushed limestone, phosphorus, and practicing good systems of crop rotation.

While the sod fence was being tried out on the prairie and found wanting, experiments were also being made with other kinds of fence which ultimately were to bring better results. Chief among these were the hedge fence and the board fence, though the picket fence was used in some places and smooth wire was also tried out at a comparatively early date. Before the advent of barbed wire, however, the former two kinds of fence were the chief rivals for precedence on the prairie and alternated in the favor of the prairie farmer.

No one knows how early experiments with hedge fences began in Illinois. The law of 1819, which defined a legal fence, made reference to "dikes, hedges and ditches," and attention has already been called to the use of hedge in connection with the sod, or ditch and embankment, fence. Professor J. B. Turner, of Jacksonville, who later was a pioneer in the introduction of the osage orange into Illinois, had his attention called to the matter of fences about 1833 while riding through the state for the first time, as he says, to address the people on the subject of common schools. He perceived the utter impossibility of the proper social organization of society—and especially of the organization of schools—so long as a want of fencing materials compelled broken and scattered settlements along the margins of the streams and groves while the interior prairie was left unprotected. Immediately, therefore, he began his experiments with hedging and, with others, tried out every conceivable plant, native and foreign, which appeared to afford any promise and which could be made available for trial. Of this long list the most prominent were the following: Buckthorn, cockspur thorn, crab apple, English hawthorn, honey locust, Virginia or Washington thorn, willow, and last and most important of all, osage orange. Of these, the last became the great hedge plant of the United States, though willow occasionally replaced it on wet ground.

The osage orange was planted in St. Louis and in Philadelphia as an ornamental tree about the beginning of the nineteenth century and within the next 30 or 35 years it was distributed fairly widely especially over the eastern part of the country with a similar object. It is uncertain to whom the credit is due for first utilizing the osage orange for hedging purposes. The honor is claimed for a horticulturist by the name of Landreth, of Philadelphia, about 1828. Not long after, in the vicinity of Cincinnati, a man by the name of Gano planted a hedge of the same material. Professor Turner stated in 1848 that osage hedges of the "rarest beauty and excellence" had been growing in Boston, Philadelphia and Cincinnati; in Kentucky, Tennessee and northern Missouri, and in short in all the middle and southern states, and that some of those hedges had been standing for 10 or 12 years. The backwardness of Illinois in respect to the use of this hedge at that time is ascribed to the fact that there were no rich men in this state to bring osage into notice.

It seems probable that others in addition to Professor Turner also introduced the osage orange into Illinois, independently, with the object of making use of it for hedge; but whether earlier or later than the latter remains uncertain. It is certain, however, that others were experimenting with it in this state as early as 1842, and it was the subject of inquiry and discussion in the first volume of the Prairie Farmer in 1841.

Professor Turner first heard of the plant in 1835 from Dr. Nelson, a famous circuit rider of the southwest, who had seen it growing in its native habitat on the banks of the Osage river, in Arkansas, and who suggested that it might prove suitable for hedging. Professor Turner, not knowing at that time, as he says, that it had ever been used for that purpose, secured some of the seed and finally succeeded in growing some of the plants and thereupon began, about 1839, a series of experiments—supplemented later by a campaign of many years duration for its introduction—which earned for him the title of "Father of the Hedge." Another individual to whom much credit is due for the introduction of the osage orange as a hedge plant and to whom the same title seems to have been applied, was Dr. John A. Warder, editor of the Western Horticultural Review, of Cincinnati, who published a volume on "Hedges and Evergreens," in 1858.

One of the best grain rotations for the central and northern part of the state is corn, oats, clover and wheat—the clover being sown with the oats for the crop of clover, and clover seeded with the wheat crop, thus making it possible to have clover growing on the land three years of the rotation. Corn, cowpeas and soy beans, wheat (clover seeded in wheat), and clover is a paying rotation for southern Illinois when used in connection with ground limestone and raw rock phosphate.

Use of Lime Good.
This condition can be remedied by the use of lime, preferably in the form of ground limestone. This form does not burn out the organic matter in the soil, but preserves it and is much cheaper. For acid soils in the southern part of the state, ground limestone should be applied at the rate of about two tons per acre every four years, and for our less acid soils, about two tons per acre every five or six years.

Use of Phosphorus.
Of the materials used in the growth of crops, phosphorus is the only one that must be bought and returned to the soil. The more phosphorus present in a sweet soil, the larger will be the legume crops (clover, alfalfa, cowpeas, soy beans, etc.), also cereal crops, that the soil will be capable of producing. In our cereal crops about 3-4 of the phosphorus used in their production ments of plant food and greatly improves the physical condition of the soil.

PROBLEM OF FENCES AND FENCING IN ILLINOIS

THIRD ARTICLE ON THIS IMPOR- TANT SUBJECT.

Era of Sod Fence Followed by Fences of Board and Hedge—Prof- essor J. B. Turner of This City Was a Pioneer in the Introduction of the Osage Orange in Illinois.

observed their importance. It was not until recent years that corn-belt feeders began to realize the importance of securing most efficient and economical roughages for their fattening process. The importance of determining the relative value of various kinds of available roughages led to the inauguration of the series of experiments now under way at this station.

Mr. Rusk gave a short review of the work done with 2-year-old steers during the two preceding winters, and then took up a detailed discussion of the results of the experiment just closing. There were 75 head of high grade Hereford and Angus calves used in the baby beef experiment conducted this past winter. These calves were divided into five lots of fifteen each and fed the following rations:

- Lot 2. Corn, cottonseed meal, silage, alfalfa last 98 days.

Question. I am thinking of starting a small flock of sheep this fall, but do not care to raise pure breeds. What points should I observe in selecting grade ewes? E. E. G.

Ans. One of the very first things to be sought in a flock of sheep is uniformity. The ewes should be of the same general type and size whether large or small. The wool should be of the same general character on each and every individual in the flock. By this we mean that there should be no long woolled sheep in the flock if nearly all the remainder are medium or fine woolled or vice versa.

In the face of the present outlook for mutton it would seem that ewes of the mutton type would prove most profitable to you. Select ewes that are fairly blocky, wide and deep with good large chests and middles. This makes room for the developing lamb and gives a form which takes on weight rapidly.

Question. Should I dock and castrate those lambs of my flock which I intend for market?

E. D. B.

Ans. It should be a universal rule among all lamb growers to dock all lambs and castrate all males not intended to be kept as sires. If necessary to make the foods keep. But sometimes, an unusually resistant bacterium establishes itself, and causes great loss. It is very important for the canner to know as soon as possible when this happens, and in recent years, the larger factories test their canned foods regularly. They keep about a dozen cans of each day's run at 100 degrees F., which is known to be the best temperature for most bacteria. If any bacteria have survived the heating, they will grow very fast and the canner knows within 24 or 48 hours that there is something wrong. Then, he can heat higher or longer or both.

Grows at High Temperatures.
In the factory where this particular loss occurred, samples of each not docked the lambs become very foul about the tail when turned on grass. This affords a breeding place for flies in warm weather and soon there is trouble from maggots. By all means dock your lambs when they are a week or ten days old.

Many farmers believe that if male lambs are left entire they grow better and develop into stronger, heavier lambs. The attitude, buyers on the market take on this proposition should dispel any such belief. Ram lambs invariably sell at a lower figure than do wether lambs. Before they reach marketable age they begin to show their masculine characters in appearance and actions. They get coarse and fretful. The former is undesirable and the latter makes them thin and bony. There is absolutely no argument for leaving your ram lambs entire.

flat-sours. This spoilage which has caused in some years a loss of $100,000 in the state of Illinois alone, has never been explained as yet in spite of the efforts of several bacteriologists. There are several indications that here also, we have another heat-loving bacterium. Send cans by express, prepaid, to Bronson Barlow, Canning Laboratory, Gibson City, Ill.

HEADLESS BODY OF YOUNG WOMAN DISCOVERED AT SEA

Captain of Fishing Schooner Makes Grievous Find 150 Miles From Boston.

Boston, July 25.—The discovery at sea of the headless body of an expensively dressed young woman was reported to day by Captain Charles White of the Schooner Jennie Gilbert upon his arrival in port from a fishing trip. To the captain it appeared that the head had been skillfully severed with a sharp knife. The body was picked up July 6th, about 150 miles from Boston and in the track of both ocean and coastwise steamers. It evidently had been in the water but a short time. Captain White described it as that of a well matured young woman of from 16 to 20 years old. The clothing gave no clue to the identity of the wearer. Captain White says he wrapped the body in canvas and sank it in the sea.

us, and practicing good systems of crop rotation.

Illinois Land Acid.
Practically all of our soils in Illinois, with the exception of black clay loam, are more or less acid (sour), and these soils do not produce the crops of clover and alfalfa that would be possible if the soils were sweet. The bacteria that live on the roots of alfalfa and clover, and which have the power of taking the nitrogen from the air for the use of the growing plant, are not active in very acid soils. Even slightly acid soils greatly retard their activity.

Use of Lime Good.
This condition can be remedied by the use of lime, preferably in the form of ground limestone. This form does not burn out the organic matter in the soil, but preserves it and is much cheaper. For acid soils in the southern part of the state, ground limestone should be applied at the rate of about two tons per acre every four years, and for our less acid soils, about two tons per acre every five or six years.

Use of Phosphorus.
Of the materials used in the growth of crops, phosphorus is the only one that must be bought and returned to the soil. The more phosphorus present in a sweet soil, the larger will be the legume crops (clover, alfalfa, cowpeas, soy beans, etc.), also cereal crops, that the soil will be capable of producing. is stored in the grain, the other 1-4 remaining in the stalks or straw. If the grain is sold, 75 per cent of the phosphorus goes with it, never to be returned unless bought in some form and applied directly to the soil.

This may be accomplished by the use of various forms of bone meal, acid and natural phosphates. Information thus far obtained shows that the cheapest and most permanent form is ground rock phosphate. The element phosphorus in this form is ments of plant food and greatly improves the physical condition of the soil.

DISTRICTS PAY FOR PUPILS' TUITION

STUDENTS MAY ATTEND HIGH SCHOOL FREE.

New Law Gives Incentive For High
Schools to Give Full Four Year
Course—Murrayville Adds Two More Years.

Following close upon the law passed by the recent state legislature, whereby graduates of the eighth grade work of the rural schools can attend a high school in another district, the district from which the pupil came having to pay the cost, the Murrayville High school has added two more years to its course, making a regular four year high school. Last year there were thirteen tuition pupils in the Murrayville High school, who paid $20 each. This year, already eighteen pupils have signified their intention of attending there. It was figured out last year that the total cost per pupil in the school was something over $33 and it is expected that the board of directors, which is composed of Edward Osborne, John Warcup and James Cunningham, will advance the cost of tuition to $35 per pupil, which sum will have to be paid from the district from which the pupil comes.

For some time the Murrayville school has felt the need of enlarging the course. It was thought for a long time that the question could be solved by organizing the township high school, but this proposition was voted down.

The outline of study will now include four years of English work, which could not be secured before. The new courses will be outlined according to the state course now prescribed for high schools. In the first year there will be English, first year algebra, ancient history and physical geography. In the second year, English, European history, second year algebra, half year botany and half year bookkeeping. In the third year, plain geometry, English, English history and physics. In the fourth year, English, pedagogy or economics, solid geometry, half a year zoology and half a year civics.

As the course is now 12 years instead of 10 years, there will be no graduation next year. The teachers in the Murrayville school are Principal J. H. Dial, Miss Louise Mansfield, intermediate; Miss Alma Story, the 7th and 8th grades, and another teacher will be selected for the 9th and 10th grades. The school building is being renovated by paint and paper and preparations made for the extra pupils.

Section of Law.
The Act passed by the last legislature as mentioned previously relative to pupils going to another district, reads as follows:

Section 1. Be it enacted by the People of the State of Illinois, represented in the General Assembly: That graduates of the eighth grade residing in a school district in which no public high school is maintained, shall be admitted, upon the payment of tuition, to any public high school, with the consent of the school board of the district in which such high school is situated. The tuition of such pupils shall be paid by the district in which they reside, from any funds not otherwise appropriated, but in no case shall the tuition per pupil exceed the per capita cost of maintaining the high school selected. The parent or guardian, shall select the high school to be attended, subject to the approval of the school directors of the home district; provided, however, that the high school selected offers a program of studies extending through four school years. The application of this Act shall not relate to districts that provide work in the ninth and tenth grades, except to pupils that have completed the work of such grades.

Effects of New Law.
Since the measure has been passed school authorities have been figuring just what effect the new law will have. That a great many parents who have children in the rural district, who have finished the eighth grade work intend to send them to the high school, is already evident. Of course there are provisions to be considered. For instance, if a high school was filled, the pupil would have to go to another high school or there might be other reasons why a high school could refuse a pupil's entrance. Whatever the school board of any high school maintains is the cost of a pupil's tuition, that tuition must be paid from the district from whence the student came. In Jacksonville the cost is about $50 or $60, which would mean that if twenty pupils came from a district here, that district would have to pay the sum of $1000 or $1200.

County Normal School.
One educator who discussed the new law is of the opinion that it will cause a decrease in the number of pupils who expected to attend the preparatory schools of the various colleges of the country. It had also been suggested that the ultimate result of the new law might be the founding of County Normal schools, which can be done under the law. This is possible where the township organization is perfected, the board of supervisors being authorized to levy taxes and appropriate moneys for the support of the schools and also for the purchase of necessary grounds and buildings or other property for the use of the school.

RESPIRE FOR CONVICTED MURDERER.

Prince Albert, Sask. July 25.—Despite the fact that he is confined behind prison bars, this was a happy day for Lewis Ratz, one of the two Hungarians convicted of the brutal murder of Charles Bruggencote last February. Ratz was to have been executed today, but the action of the supreme court in ordering a re-trial of his case assures him of another lease of life.
